HENRY FORD COLLEGE

5101 Evergreen, Dearborn, MI 48128
www.hfcc.edu

HENRY
FORD
COLLEGE
FUTUREDRIVEN

Sponsored by the American Sign Language Program, the Arab Cultural Studies Program, and the Council of World Cultures

MARKETPLACE STORIES: MIDDLE EASTERN FOLKTALES

SHADOW INTERPRETED IN ASL

PRESENTED BY THE WILD SWAN THEATER

Friday, September 29, 2017
Adray Auditorium, MacKenzie Fine Arts (Building F)
11:10 a.m.—12:30 p.m.

Mission

The Council of World Cultures seeks to foster global awareness and understanding throughout the College and greater community through the study of world cultures.

BUILDING BRIDGES of UNDERSTANDING
CONFERENCE

MEMBERSHIP ROSTER

Nahla Haidar, Chair

Shannon Bruley, Career Ed. Rep.

John Carroll, Student Services Rep.

Laura Yeakel, At-Large Rep.

Kathy Orlich, At-large Rep.

Cassandra Fluker, Student Activities Mgr. (Ex-officio)

Brenda Hildreth, S.O.S. Rep.

Lina Jawad, Adjunct AFO Rep.

Joel Geffen, Walk-On Member

Karen Richards, Support Staff Rep

Lathika Moragoda, At-Large Rep.

Elizabeth Preston, Walk-On Member

A shadow interpreted performance has appropriately costumed American Sign Language interpreters embedded in the performance so that the play is presented in two languages simultaneously. Wild Swan Theater, based at Washtenaw Community College, is a children's theater group which is fully accessible to all audiences. Many of its plays are written specifically for Wild Swan and deal with Michigan history. Marketplace Stories was developed with support from the Arab American National Museum in Dearborn. If you are interested in theater, in American Sign Language, in oral and written history, in linguistics, and languages, or if you just enjoy a good tale, you will find Marketplace Stories informative and entertaining. The cast will answer questions after the performance; the American Sign Language/Deaf Culture Program of HFC will have representatives present to answer questions as well. ASL interpreters will be available throughout.

Adray Auditorium is a 400+ seat theater with excellent sight lines. Seating for Deaf

For more information, contact Nahla Haidar at 313-845-6450 or Laura Yeakel at lyeakel@hfcc.edu.